By allowing surgeons who work here to have the opportunity to have an interest in the facility, the surgeons are able to have input on how his or her patients are cared for during their stay here. Many surgeons prefer the ambulatory surgery setting for several reasons:

- Increased efficiency
- Easy access for patients
- Low post-operative infection rates
- High patient satisfaction
- Lower cost to the patient – ambulatory surgery centers are paid 65% of the rates paid to hospitals, which is a significant amount of savings to be passed on to the patient
